Wingate Landmarks and Traditions:

The Wellspring: Symbolizing a spring of knowledge through the university campus, the Old Wellspring Fountain is a popular campus attraction. The Old Wellspring Fountain was built in honor of Wingate school transforming from school (1896), to junior college (1923), then to college (1977), and finally into a university (1995).

The Gate: The famous Wingate Gate reads, "Faith, Knowledge, Service, 1896," which serves as Wingate's Motto. The first Gate was given to the school by a graduating class in 1924. Since then, there has been one other Gate that was built in 1942. The first Gate was meant to symbolize the progress of Wingate College as it opened its doors to become a Junior College in 1924. Since then, the Gate stands as a historic reminder of the growth Wingate has seen.

The Seal: The Official Seal of the University, which sits in front of Burris Hall, the oldest building on campus, proudly displays our motto: Faith, Knowledge, Service. Students avoid stepping on the seal at all costs. Tradition has it that if you step on the seal you will not graduate on time.
