MISSION

The Wingate University School of Pharmacy intends to be a nationally recognized leader in the education of students and pharmacists for the practice of pharmacy in all patient care settings for all patients. Wingate seeks to pursue its mission by providing an individualized, state-of-the-art learning environment that will facilitate the development of its students’ critical thinking and problem-solving skills for the pursuit of pharmaceutical care. Subordinate to the primacy of Wingate’s teaching mission are scholarly inquiry and will facilitate service to patients, to the community, to the health care professions, and to the institution. Consistent with the student-centered focus of the University, limited enrollment will allow for practice experience during each year of the curriculum and the low student-to-faculty ratio necessary for the fulfillment of the School’s stated mission.

NORTH CAROLINA ASSOCIATION OF PHARMACISTS NCAP

By: Whitney Gibson and Monica White

NCAP began the 2013-2014 year with the Student Leadership Conference held in Pinehurst, NC, in September. The chapter advisors and the Wingate chapter played a substantial role in the planning of the Student Leadership Conference. Multiple speakers gave presentations about healthcare models and offered advice and insight for changes in pharmacy that will be soon in effect. The annual NCAP Conference was held in Raleigh, NC, also in September. Students in attendance participated in a mini-health fair, OTC Jeopardy, and a residency showcase. Mock Interviews were created by the professionalism committee and offered to students in November. Students were able to sit down with professors to gain insight into what job or residency interviews might be like.

NCAP has continued to strive for excellence through community outreach efforts. The fall semester included eleven successful outreach projects. During two Operation Sandwich events, students made and delivered sandwiches to Urban Ministry. Members also participated in five Habitat for Humanity projects in Union County. Students participated in the Rx Clinic Health Fair in Charlotte, NC, providing the public with information about self-care and medication disposal. Two school health fairs also were held during the fall semester. Additionally, NCAP represented Wingate at the Men’s Shelter of Charlotte Health Fair, sharing information about heart health, providing blood pressure screenings, and educating about cough and cold. The cough and cold booth was also a part of the health fair held in Hendersonville, NC. Finally, immunization awareness was provided by the NCAP Education Committee during one of the Wingate University football games in October.

Spring will be a busy semester. The Wingate campus has several Operation Sandwich and Habitat for Humanity events planned. NCAP will also participate in the school-wide health fair being held in Hendersonville, NC. Two of our chapter members, Kevin Anderson and Taylor Morrisette, will represent Wingate University at RxImpact, a national opportunity for pharmacy legislation; only 50 students are chosen in the United States to attend. Heidi Ecker, a NACDS lobbyist, is coming to Wingate to speak to students in March. NCAP is also participating in the school-wide Medication Adherence Challenge!

This is an exciting time for Wingate University School of Pharmacy NCAP as we expand our chapter with several new members and activities on the Hendersonville campus. The fall 2013 semester was successful with extensive participation in Operation Christmas Child as students came together to assemble shoeboxes filled with toys, candy, and most significantly essential goods for children in need. It is estimated that the efforts of the Hendersonville campus provided over $250 to the charity.

For the spring semester, the NCAP chapter on the Hendersonville campus is planning a community health outreach event at the Western North Carolina Multiple Sclerosis Walk, held in Fletcher, NC.

Hendersonville NCAP has already begun establishing a team to walk and has been accepted as an exhibitor for the occasion. The goal is to raise awareness for Multiple Sclerosis while providing health information to the public.

NCAP has had a very successful year! We are excited for the opportunities that the chapter continues to provide to students and for our continuous involvement in the community and in the pharmacy profession.
At Wingate, APhA seeks to embody this mission through the activities and events the chapter sponsors. In November, several students attended the Midyear Regional Meeting in Birmingham, AL. At the meeting, P1 student Jared Frye represented Wingate University and the chapter by presenting a policy he wrote. This policy was approved at the regional meeting and will continue on to the next phase of approval. The policy is just one way the chapter hopes to be a voice for pharmacists and students all across the country and to advance the practice even further.

The chapter also participated in the Wingate University School Health Fair that took place at the Men’s Shelter in Charlotte. There, the chapter participated in blood glucose screenings, counseled patients on OTC medications, and took the men’s blood pressures. The students enjoyed interacting with patients and practicing their counseling and clinical skills.

In order to effectively plan events, APhA has subcommittees based on different disease states and initiatives. One of these committees, Operation Diabetes, organized a team to participate in the Step Out Walk to End Diabetes. This event was a great way to raise awareness and support for patients with Diabetes. Another initiative, Operation Self-care, which is a committee designed to educate patients on OTC medications and other interventions that patients can do themselves, participated in another health fair at an independent pharmacy in the area. There students had a great time helping patients learn about appropriate medications for allergies, colds, and minor pain. They also informed parents about medications that could raise their blood pressure and encouraged patients to talk to their local pharmacists when trying to select medications. Lastly, the chapter wanted to reach out to the undergraduate pre-pharmacy club. The chapter put on mock interviews for them and answered any questions they might have about interviews and applying to pharmacy schools. Both sides seemed to benefit, and the chapter desires to maintain this connection with the undergraduate students in the future.
On November 16, 2014 a group of Wingate pharmacy students and faculty from the Hendersonville campus came together to host a health fair at the Blue Ridge Mall in Hendersonville, NC. The group of approximately 20 students and 5 faculty educated the community on various health topics which included blood pressure screenings, smoking cessation, blood glucose checks, cough and cold prevention, and information regarding the “Vial of Life” program. This is the second health fair in which this group of students has participated. Several students from the Wingate main campus as well as a student from the newly expanded Hendersonville campus physician assistant program came out to help with this event.

PFI represents a unique combination of two passions: a love of Christ and a love of pharmacy. This blend of faith and profession allows the organization to participate in a variety of events that are dedicated to fellowship and service.

Each month, CPFI puts on a Bible study for the school. Usually, one of the faculty members will lead the study, and participants can enjoy a delicious meal while fellowshipping with other students or faculty. The talks from the faculty are heart-felt and thought provoking and seek to bring the students closer to Christ. Many students look forward to these monthly meetings as they love to hear and learn from the faculty. This year CPFI started a small-group Bible study. Currently, the group is going through the book Crazy Love by Francis Chan. The hope is that the study will allow students to pursue their faith in a deeper, more meaningful way. The small-group study has been a great tool to allow members to get to know one another on a deeper level as they seek to share in their bond of faith.

Members also strive to serve the local community by participating in various service projects. Each month the chapter goes to Union Park Assisted Living Facility to facilitate craft projects with the residents. The residents love these visits, and CPFI members enjoy putting a smile on their faces. CPFI also participates in Operation Christmas Child. This past December, CPFI had a competition between the pharmacy classes to see who could bring in the most shoeboxes. The chapter also volunteered at the distribution center and was able to participate in packaging boxes for a special project for closed countries around the world. Samaritan’s Feet is another project in which members participate. Each semester, the chapter goes to the distribution center and helps sort shoes for people who need them around the world. The members especially enjoy this project as it allows them to serve and work together as an organization.

As for the chapter’s commitment to pharmacy and health, the chapter looks forward to sponsoring WinFit, which is a competition between the pharmacy classes and faculty to see who can collect the most points by exercising. At the end of the month, the group with the most points will receive the Breakfast of Champions, a healthy breakfast to reward participants for their hard work. The goal of this competition is to encourage students and faculty to get healthy by exercising and eating right. In addition to WinFit, the chapter is starting to work on a new initiative for the school health fair. The chapter desires to continue participating in school health fairs and focus on pharmacy initiatives while spreading the love of Christ. CPFI has had a successful year so far and looks forward to continuing to pursue Christ and pharmacy in everything they do.
In March, PLS will be accepting 33 new members, marking the biggest growth in our chapter to date. We are so excited about the direction that we are heading. To help support this growth, PLS will be having its first fundraiser: a murder mystery dinner show, put on with the help of The Murder Mystery Co. out of Charlotte, NC. This event will simulate a live, interactive game of Clue where guests will try to solve a murder mystery while also enjoying a nice meal. Lastly, thanks to a generous grant from Target, we will be working to create a mentorship program. Through pairing current students with alumni mentors, the program will assist the current student’s professional development and allow him or her to form quality partnerships within the community. The students of PLS owe our sincerest gratitude to the faculty advisors of the organization; their efforts have allowed us to be so successful this year!

The Rho Chi society is recognized as the pharmacy honors society within Wingate University School of Pharmacy. The mission of Rho Chi is “To achieve universal recognition of its members as lifelong intellectual leaders in pharmacy and to instill the desire to pursue intellectual excellence and critical inquiry to advance the profession.” In order to join Rho Chi, students must be selected by faculty based on their academic performance. Students become eligible for membership after completing the first semester of their P2 year; the top 20% of the P2 class receives an invitation.

Twenty-four P2 students in the class of 2016 currently comprise the organization. The Wingate Gamma Phi chapter was happy to extend membership and accept these students into the society on March 11th in conjunction with Phi Lambda Sigma.

Current Rho Chi members: encourage all P1 and P2 students to keep up their hard work as they will be the future of Rho Chi!
The Brothers of the Beta Omega Chapter of Phi Delta Chi have had a busy few months! On Saturday, February 22nd, PDC initiated thirty new brothers into our fraternity. Brothers Jonathan Graham and Kevin Kulik worked tirelessly throughout the winter, preparing the pledges for initiation by educating them on Phi Delta Chi’s history and ritual throughout the six weeks of pledge class. The pledge period culminated in a two-night initiation, which was attended by our Beta Omega Chapter and faculty advisors, as well as Brothers from surrounding chapters at Campbell University and The University of North Carolina. Overall it was an exciting weekend, and we could not be happier with the progress the Kappa pledge class made throughout the months. We are excited to welcome them into the fraternity as new Brothers.

Besides attending two pledge classes every week, the Kappa pledge class made time to give back to the community and our philanthropy, St. Jude’s Children’s Hospital. The pledges at the Hendersonville Campus volunteered for Habitat for Humanity on February 1st, while the pledges at the Wingate Campus attended The DEA Drug Diversion Conference in Charlotte and the Phi Lambda Sigma Leadership Conference in Charleston on February 7th and 8th. The Hendersonville pledges were able to raise money by volunteering at Abele’s Family Restaurant, and the Wingate pledges volunteered for a give back night at Moe’s Southwest Grill in Monroe. Even with school work, pledge classes, professional events, and fundraising, the Kappa class still had time to have a little fun. Pledges from both campuses met at George Pappas Victory Lanes in Gastonia for a fun evening of bowling and socializing.

While the pledging process takes up a lot of chapter time, the Worthy Chief Counselor Nathan Batchelder and the Brothers of Beta Omega also fulfilled many philanthropic, professional, and social obligations. Throughout the winter and spring, the Beta Omega Brothers volunteered their time at Health Quest, performed medication disposal events at various locations in the area, and took blood pressure readings at the Ellen Fitzgerald Senior Center. The Brothers have also been volunteering their time updating and entering electronic medical records at the Matthews Free Clinic. The professional committee also held monthly White Coat Series lectures with topics ranging from diets, opening your own pharmacy, and loan repayments. Socially, our annual Founder’s Day Dinner took place on November 8 at VBGB in Charlotte and was a blast. In January, the Brothers met at the Extreme Ice Center in Indian Trail for a fun night of socializing and ice skating and also met up with our alumni brothers at The All American Pub in Charlotte. Later in April, the brothers celebrated our Awards Banquet at Black Finn in Charlotte.

Philanthropically, the brothers raised money for St. Jude’s by selling PDC discount cards, blankets, koozies, and sunglasses to Wingate students. Finally, our major fundraising event, the St. Jude’s Children’s Hospital Run for the Pig 5k, took place on April 26th. This 5k walk/run, which culminated with a pig picking and awards ceremony, only cost 25 dollars to compete in and raised a great deal of money for our charity.

While the initiation of new Brothers is exciting, the spring season is also bittersweet. Our P3 Brothers are moving on to their respective rotation sites, and our P4 Brothers will be graduating. While we all will miss them, we know they are going to be excellent pharmacists and will continue to strengthen their skills on rotation and in the real world. They know they will always have a home here at the Beta Omega Chapter, and we cannot wait for them to come back and visit. Best wishes for all Beta Omega Brothers, whether you are in Wingate or where ever your travels take you. Never forget: “a man must first direct himself in the way he should go; only then can he instruct others.”

AAAE,
Brother Chris Pavero
What made you want to join PDC?
“I first wanted to join PDC because it offered me a great opportunity to get to know many of the “upperclassmen” and faculty outside of the confines of the classroom, since so many of them are also members of this Fraternity.”

What is your favorite aspect of being a PDC brother?
“My favorite aspect of being a Brother of PDC is the common bond that we share, especially when we are together, not only among our chapter members, but also with the Brothers from other chapters in this state and throughout the country.”

Describe your brothers in five words or less.
“Dedicated, Leaders, Caring, Family, Fun”

What advice do you have for anyone considering joining PDC next year?
“Do it. We’d love to have you, and, as any current or alumni Brother will tell you, joining PDC will be an experience that will benefit you both personally and professionally for years to come. You will hear quite often that “pharmacy is a small world,” and PDC can provide you with an excellent network of peers and mentors on your journey through your pharmacy career, as well as give you a chance to give back to both your school and the community as a member of a renowned Fraternity – it’s a Brotherhood much bigger than yourself.”

On January 26th, members of Wingate University School of Pharmacy’s SNPhA chapter headed into Charlotte, NC, to attend the Vietnamese New Year Tet Festival at Central Piedmont Community College. We chose to attend this festival as part of the Jade Ribbon campaign, an initiative that our SNPhA chapter supports. The Jade Ribbon Campaign’s purpose is to spread awareness about hepatitis B and liver cancer in Asian populations. At the festival, student pharmacists were able to provide information about hepatitis B and chronic kidney disease to members of Charlotte’s Vietnamese community. Additionally, student pharmacists provided free blood pressure screenings and blood sugar checks to dozens of attendees of the festival. Attendees of the festival were interested; they had many questions about hepatitis B prevention and were excited about the free services we were able to provide. Overall, this exposure to a different culture and the opportunity to educate and impact our community was a great learning experience for SNPhA’s student pharmacists.

Other activities throughout the months of January and February included SNPhA’s Power to End Stroke event on February 15th at the Siskey YMCA in Matthews, NC. The Power to End Stroke campaign of the American Stroke Association is another initiative that SNPhA supports; this project works to promote stroke awareness and education throughout the community. At the event, student pharmacists distributed stroke-related health information and educated members of our community about stroke risk factors, signs and symptoms, and what to do if they occur.

The Wingate Student Society of Health Systems Pharmacists (SSHP) had a busy fall semester, starting with our clinical skills competition, continuing with SSHP’s first Chili Cook-off competition, and concluding with the ASHP Midyear Clinical Meeting in Orlando, Florida.

The biggest on-campus event of the fall semester was the annual Clinical Skills Competition. The goal of the competition is for students to be able to apply clinical knowledge to solve drug therapy problems. The competition tests the students’ abilities in the areas of pathophysiology, therapeutics, interpretation of lab values, and pharmacokinetics. The local competition is open to all students at Wingate, from P1s to P4s.

Congratulations to our local winners, Kris Gutierrez and Ishita Ghandi, who were provided free ASHP Midyear registration and a chance to represent Wingate at the national level! Unfortunately, they did not reach the final round of the national competition, but we appreciate their efforts. Dr. Jacqueline Olin, Wingate’s SSHP faculty advisor, and Dr. Heather Kehr also represented WUSOP at the national meeting as the case writers for the national Clinical Skills Competition case. Congratulations to Dr. Olin and Dr. Kehr!

SSHP also hosted its first Chili Con-Carnival, a chili cook-off competition, in October. The competition served as a fundraiser for the chapter. Students, faculty and staff were encouraged to submit their best chili recipe for judging. First place went to Cole Herrell, second place went to Morgan Sullivan, and third place went to Dr. Olga Klibanov. Congratulations to our chili cook-off winners!

This year at the ASHP Midyear, the Wingate SSHP was represented by three students at a poster session highlighting the activities of student chapters from around the country. Our poster, created by Mary Lomberk, Kevin Anderson, and Jenna McCoy, focused on the annual Student-Faculty Basketball Tournament we host during the spring semester. The poster also focused on the annual Can-Tab War competition among the P1, P2, and P3 classes to raise can-tab donations for the Ronald McDonald House of Charlotte. In addition to the poster session, nine P2 and P3 students were able to network with other student pharmacists and attend informational workshops.

We are all very proud of the activities and accomplishments of our organization. We look forward to the years to come, and we thank all those who continue to support us!
The American College of Clinical Pharmacy (ACCP) chapter at Wingate University continues to carry on its mission of professional development and leadership in clinical pharmacy through a series of ongoing activities organized by its student members.

During the month of October, the chapter sponsored another Disease-State-Discussion: For this discussion, pediatrics professor Dr. Brock Harris focused on necrotizing enterocolitis in neonates. Many students found the topic of discussion to be very informative as it was a good way to prepare for their pediatrics exam.

With the approach of November came preparations for the annual Student Senate Health Fair held at the Men’s Homeless Shelter in Charlotte. This year, ACCP’s outstanding osteoporosis booth, organized by P3 student Jenna McCoy, attracted many visitors. Students had the opportunity to counsel patients on the impact of the disease on quality of life and to encourage appropriate diet and exercise regimens and the adequate intake of supplements to maintain good bone health. Patients got While osteoporosis is most prevalent in the female population, men can also do their part to stay informed and to relay the message to female family members and friends.

ACCP continues to hold its monthly “Lunch and Learn” events at the Ellen Fitzgerald Senior Center in downtown Monroe. In November, senior citizens were treated to a home-cooked meal of barbecued chicken sliders and deviled eggs while learning the secrets of how to stay young in the mind and body. Despite the age difference, both senior citizens and students enjoyed each other’s company over a good meal.

The conclusion of the fall semester saw a number of achievements brought on by the newly developed Philanthropy Committee, headed by P2 student John Kindy. For example, the committee’s collective efforts to organize a Winter Coat Drive was rewarded with a grand total of 98 coats, 2 beanies, and a pair of gloves, with all proceeds going to the Charlotte Men’s Shelter. The coat drive was well-received by the students and staff at Wingate University School of Pharmacy as well as members at the shelter. With the help of our generous donors at Wingate and beyond, we can ensure that our homeless friends stay warm all winter long.

This spring, ACCP is working on a new development for students. The new STEP program (Student Team Experiential Project) aims to involve a team of students across the academic years to complete various clinical projects in the hospital setting alongside clinical specialists. Through this program, students may get the chance to be part of a residency-like experience and to present posters from their work. The STEP program is expected to be up and running by Fall of 2014.

For more information about the national organization, please visit www.accp.org. To stay up to date on all of Wingate University’s ACCP events, please visit our website www.wusopaccp.weebly.com.
